

They Are Not You

You want to have kids to fill in your life
You teach them your way and how to play

Who knows if your wright in what you show them
It has always been done so you have one

They are all different and not that much like you Treat them for who they are not like someone in your car

