

Big Business

Looking back on history there are kings of land who want more power to increase their command

They tell a false story to take over more sand to build their empire for them to be grand

They can't be bothered to run their affairs so they bring in the wise and form a round table

Now they have gathered to hand out their shares they make up some lies so they can keep their label

