

Population

When more jobs go up for us to be employed so our heads don't go down

Unemployment goes up when jobs are scarce it's our sanity that goes down

When more buildings go up to send us to work it's our landscape that goes down

The diseases go up when we are spreading it's our immunity that goes down

When crime goes up because of our density it's our life that goes down

When the population goes up it's the growth they want for their foot to go down

The accidents go up because we are crowed it's our bodies that go down

When more houses go up it's the use of more land for nature to go down

The pollution goes up when more things are made it's our health that goes down
