

The Back Door

What's really going on in our back yard
We could be gone if we don't put up a guard

We are not focused in seeing our future
We're confused about living with nature

We're like a disease growing like a big thunder
It's not a breeze to stop us going down under

