

A Just Cause

Just because a President is important shouldn't mean that a cleaner is not as important

Just because someone is brainier than others
shouldn't mean
that they are more significant than others

Just because someone has more skills than others
shouldn't mean
that they are more important than others

Just because someone wears a suit
shouldn't mean
that others would want to wear one

Just because someone has a desk job
shouldn't mean
that others would want one

Just because many struggle in life
shouldn't mean
that just a few have a luxury life
