

Use and Abuse

There are a few of those who enter talent shows because they want to be one of those pros

Those who do compete, range from young to old and have the strength to be bright and bold

Some people start to think I don't like the look of you but looks are deceiving to not bring out a boo

Then out of the blue you hear a great voice or two and you think to yourself, phew am I a bent screw

Being amazed at your talent they give you a prize so now it's time for you to stand up and rise

You need help to create a new life so you listen to the experts who know how to strive

They say your looks need a big make up so we can all feed our treasure cup

Or what we good do is just use your voice with someone's good looks for our customer's choice

Because the beautiful sell for them to feast they are allowed to use beauty and the beast
